Factors Used to Determine Undue Hardship of a Use Variance

Please respond to each question as it pertains to your variance request. It is important to be as thorough and detailed as possible. If you need additional space, you may use a separate sheet to answer the questions.

1. The property cannot be put to any economically viable use under any of the permitted uses in the Zoning Code.

2. The variance request stems from a condition, which is unique to the property at issue and not ordinarily found in the same zoning or district.
3. The hardship condition is not created by actions of the applicant.

4. The granting of the variance will not adversely affect the rights of adjacent property owners or residents.

5. The granting of the variance will not adversely affect the public health, safety, or general welfare.
6. The variance will be consistent with the general spirit and intent of the Zoning Code.

7. The variance sought is the minimum, which will afford relief to the applicant.

An applicant who seeks a variance of a particular zoning requirement has the burden of establishing that the strict and literal enforcement of the zoning regulation is unreasonable when applied to the particular piece of property in question. It is up to the applicant to present the case as thoroughly and completely as possible.

THE APPLICANT HAS THE BURDEN OF PROOF.
The Board of Zoning Appeals may not prove your case for you.
